

FIRSTENERGY SOLUTIONS TO SUPPLY ELECTRICITY TO VEKA, INC., IN PENNSYLVANIA

FirstEnergy Solutions, an Akron, Ohio, company and a subsidiary of FirstEnergy Corp. (NYSE: FE), recently signed an agreement to supply electricity to VEKA, Inc., the world's largest producer of vinyl window and door profiles. The company has facilities in Fombell, Pennsylvania, north of Pittsburgh.

With this signing, FirstEnergy Solutions now provides retail electricity to more than 275 major commercial and industrial customers in the Pennsylvania Power (Penn Power) service area, supplying more than $175 million of power. FirstEnergy Solutions has been active in Pennsylvania since 1997, when deregulation brought new electric generation supplier options to Pennsylvania customers. Because Penn Power's transition period ended December 31, 2006, customers in the area now pay market rates for electricity.

"VEKA, Inc. took advantage of our pricing in what was a very active shopping market," said Arthur Yuan, vice president of Sales and Marketing at FirstEnergy Solutions. "Our knowledge of the Pennsylvania market and regulatory environment, combined with our innovative products, enabled us to tailor an offer that met VEKA, Inc.'s operational needs and financial objectives."

"FirstEnergy Solutions took the time to understand our unique requirements as a large user of electricity, and more important, created an offer that helped us avoid the risk of higher electricity prices beginning in 2007," says Laura Thoma, material manager at VEKA, Inc. "We gained greater control of the price we will pay for electricity this year."

VEKA, Inc., headquartered in Fombell, has grown to become the world's largest producer of vinyl window and door profiles. FirstEnergy Solutions will serve VEKA's 600,000-square-foot facility, located 30 miles north of Pittsburgh, which houses a highly automated computer-controlled compounding and extrusion operation.

FirstEnergy Solutions provides competitive electricity and other energy-related products and services, and is a licensed supplier in parts of the Northeast, Mid-Atlantic and Midwest. Customers can contact FirstEnergy Solutions at 1-800-977-0500, or at www.fes.com.
